OBREGON NAMES ARGENTINA MAN LEGAL ADVISER

Serves as Argentine Minister to Mexico and His Advise Is Frequently Sought.

(By Associated Press)
BUENOS AIRES, March 29.—(By Mail).—The chief advisor of President Obregon of Mexico is the Argentine minister there, Dr. Manuel E. Malbran, asserts Dr. Enrique Gil, an Argentine lawyer who has arrived in Buenos Aires after a trip through a number of Latin-American countries. To a reporter of La Nacion, Dr. Gil said:

"In reality President Obregon adjusts his conduct and his decisions to the counsels of the Argentine minister, Dr. Malbran. His ideas are those of Dr. Malbran when he consults for any decision of importance. Dr. Malbran is in this way in an admirable situation to pursue the diplomacy of Argentina. He enjoys much prestige in Mexico. President Obregon holds him in extraordinary regard."

Dr. Gil said the Mexicans had a poor concept of Argentina and believed that Mexico was the most advanced of the Latin-American countries.

"So great is the ignorance of Argentina in Mexico," he said, "that I was considered a chauvinist and a boaster among a group of Mexicans when I told them that the great majority of the population of our country was pure white and that there were only 20,000 Indians."

Referring to the policy of the United States toward Mexico, Dr. Gil said that any conception that the United States was actuated by motives of imperialism was entirely wrong.
